Map of New England in 1613 by Captain John Smith

This map by explorer Captain John Smith was made several years before the English colonists arrived in Plymouth. Many of the place names are different from what we call them today. Look for the creatures in the sea and on land!